

Realtree Hardwoods HD

Realtree

Hardwoods HD® has obvious application in hardwood forests across the country, whether the cypress swamps of the south, white oak stands of the northeast, cottonwood bottoms of the midwest, flooded timber of the Central Flyway or oak brush of the Rocky Mountain range. The pattern is, however, extremely versatile. Many hunters find it unbeatable in rocky terrain. Realtree Hardwoods HD® also hides well in almost any winter or early spring setting, even when snow or green are present. The pattern is so neutral it simply disappears into virtually any outdoor setting.
